

Boise Parks and Recreation maintains more than 101 parks across the City of Boise. These green spaces offer residents in every neighborhood endless opportunities to learn, play and explore. Many of our parks offer playground equipment for children ages two and up. From nature play to swings, slides and zip lines, there is something for everyone.

The City of Boise is committed to creating a city for everyone, and that includes creating a level playing field for kids of all abilities. More than a dozen of the city's park playgrounds include accessible amenities and inclusive designs so that all children can play together.
